

At the Faculty of Psychology the Institute of Work, Organizational and Social Psychology invites applications for the

Chair (W2) of Social Psychology
(with tenure track to W3)

to be filled from April 1, 2022, initially as a fixed-term position for five years. As part of the appointment, evaluation criteria are defined consensually and the evaluation by a cross-faculty and cross-departmental commission will take place at least one year before the end of the temporary W2 position. After a successful tenure evaluation, the candidate will be appointed to a permanent Chair (W3) of Social Psychology. Essential components of the evaluation are scientific success in terms of the quality and quantity of publications, active participation in larger collaborative projects within and outside the faculty and university (e.g., excellence cluster application), success in obtaining third-party funding and promoting young researchers as well as a positively evaluated teaching performance.

The chair is responsible for teaching social psychology in the study programs Bachelor of Psychology and Masters in Psychology: Human Performance in Socio-Technical-Systems (HPSTS) as well as in teacher training. With respect to research, the focus should be on experimental social psychology and a collaboration with all three research focuses of the Faculty of Psychology. The chair fulfills an important bridging function to the emerging fields "Neurosciences" and "Societal Change" of the Excellence Strategy, which are to be expanded with priority. An active participation in interdisciplinary projects is explicitly desired. The Faculty of Psychology attaches importance to transparent and replicable research and supports these goals through open data, open material and pre-registrations. We expect your willingness and ability to conduct courses in German and English, as well as the active participation in academic self-administration. Applicants must fulfill the employment qualification requirements of § 58 of the Act on the Autonomy of Institutions of Higher Education in the Free State of Saxony (SächsHSFG).

If you have any further questions, please contact the chairman of the appointment committee, Prof. Dr. Jürgen Wegge (tel. +49 351 463 37677; email: juergen.wegge@tu-dresden.de) or the Dean of the Faculty of Psychology, Prof. Dr. Thomas Goschke (tel. +49 351 463-35424; email: thomas.goschke@tu-dresden.de).

TU Dresden supports tenure track professors with a program specifically tailored to their needs. Mentoring, various coaching sessions, and special continuing education programs and support offers provide active professional guidance throughout the duration of the temporary tenure position.

TU Dresden seeks to employ more female professors. Hence, we particularly encourage women to apply. Applications from candidates with disabilities or those requiring additional support are very welcome. The University is a certified family-friendly university and offers a Dual Career Service. If you have any questions about these topics, please contact the Equal Opportunities Officer of the Faculty of Psychology (Dr. Denise Dörfel, +49 351 463-36688 or gleichstellung.psychologie@tu-dresden.de) or the Representative of Employees with Disabilities (Mr. Roberto Lemmrich, +49 351 463-33175).

We look forward to receiving your application that should include the following documents: 1) cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae in tabular form, 3) your teaching and research concept, max. two pages each, 4) a list of publications, 5) copies of the three most important publications, 6) a list of third-party funding, 7) a list of previous teaching activities and results of teaching evaluations (preferably for the last three years), 8) copies of the academic certificates of the highest degree obtained, 9) a description of previous consideration of open data, open material and pre-registrations in your research (one page max.).

Please send your application by June 3, 2021 (stamped arrival date of the university central mail service of TU Dresden applies) to: TU Dresden, Fakultät Psychologie, Dekan, Herrn Prof. Dr. Thomas Goschke, Helmholtzstr. 10, 01069 Dresden and in electronic form (CD, USB storage medium or via the SecureMail portal of the TU Dresden, <https://securemail.tu-dresden.de> to dekanat.psychologie@tu-dresden.de).
