Technische Universität Dresden (TUD), as a University of Excellence, is one of the leading and most dynamic research institutions in the country. Founded in 1828, today it is a globally oriented, regionally anchored top university, developing innovative solutions for the world's most pressing issues. In research and academic programs, the university unites the natural and engineering sciences with the humanities, social sciences and medicine. This wide range of disciplines is a special feature, facilitating interdisciplinarity and transfer of science to society. As a modern employer, it offers attractive working conditions to all employees in teaching, research, technology and administration. The goal is to promote and develop their individual abilities while empowering everyone to reach their full potential. TUD embodies a university culture that is characterized by cosmopolitanism, mutual appreciation, thriving innovation and active participation. For TUD diversity is an essential feature and a quality criterion of an excellent university. Accordingly, we welcome all applicants who would like to commit themselves, their achievements and productivity to the success of the whole institution.

At the Faculty of Linguistics, Literature and Cultural Studies, Institute of Classical Philology, the Chair (W2) of Classical Philology/Latin (with tenure track to W3) is to be filled for a period of six years as of April 1, 2024. After five years at the latest, a cross-Faculty and cross-School commission will conduct a tenure evaluation. If the evaluation is positive, you will be appointed to a permanent Chair (W3) of Classical Philology/Latin. The evaluation criteria will be mutually agreed upon when the position is accepted and will form the basis of the evaluation procedure. These will cover the categories of academic teaching, research, knowledge transfer and academic self-administration.

The chair should represent the subject in its full breadth in research and teaching. You (m/f/x) will represent Latin Studies in the teacher training-related study programs as well as in the BA and MA programs of the Faculty of Linguistics, Literature and Cultural Studies, and in the interdisciplinary MA program in Ancient Cultures. In this way, you will make a meaningful contribution to a teaching program that is as relevant as it is varied. In addition to research foci in the study of classical literature and culture, we expect you to be a committed participant in interdisciplinary collaborations within the Faculty of Linguistics, Literature and Cultural Studies and the Department of Ancient Studies at TUD, especially at the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, to make a substantial contribution to the development of joint research projects in the Emerging Field of “Societal Change”, for example in the “TU Disruption and Societal Change Center” (TUDiSC) as well as in the context of the Science and Innovation Campus DRESDEN-concept. Your active participation at the Institute of Classical Philology, at the Faculty of Language, Literature and Cultural Studies, as well as at the School of Humanities and Social Sciences is required. This includes the ongoing development of the degree programs. Your willingness to engage in academic self-administration is a prerequisite.

A focus in the area of digital classics and your willingness to get involved in corresponding activities at TUD will be advantageous. Experience in the acquisition of third-party funding is equally desirable as experience in matters of internationalization, such as stays abroad. Applicants must fulfill the appointment requirements of § 59 of the Institutions of Higher Education Act in the Free State of Saxony (SächsHSG).

If you have any further questions, please contact the Dean of the Faculty of Linguistics, Literature and Cultural Studies and Chair of the appointment committee, Prof. Dr. Christian Prunitsch, tel. +49 351 463-32771; email: christian.prunitsch@tu-dresden.de.
TUD strives to employ more women in academia and research. We therefore expressly encourage women to apply. The University is a certified family-friendly university and offers a Dual Career Service. We welcome applications from candidates with disabilities. If multiple candidates prove to be equally qualified, those with disabilities or with equivalent status pursuant to the German Social Code IX (SGB IX) will receive priority for employment. If you have any questions about these topics, please contact the Equal Opportunities Officer of the Faculty of Linguistics, Literature and Cultural Studies (Prof. Dr. Anna-Maria De Cesare Greenwald, tel. +49 351 463-42396) or the Representative of Employees with Disabilities (Mr. Roberto Lemmrich, tel. +49 351 463-33175).

Please submit your application including a CV in tabular form, a description of your academic career, a list of publications, a compilation of courses taught incl. the results of evaluations (preferably from the last three years), and a copy of the certificate of your highest academic degree, preferably in electronic form (in one PDF file) via the TUD SecureMail Portal (https://securemail.tu-dresden.de) to dek-slk@mailbox.tu-dresden.de or to: TU Dresden, Fakultät Sprach-, Literatur- und Kulturwissenschaften, Dekan, Herrn Prof. Dr. Christian Prunitsch, Helmholtzstr. 10, 01069 Dresden Germany by September 9, 2023 (stamped arrival date of the university central mail service applies).

Reference to data protection: Your data protection rights, the purpose for which your data will be processed, as well as further information about data protection is available to you on the website: https://tu-dresden.de/karriere/datenschutzhinweis.